Dear relation,

We should like to inform you of our decision to transfer our company to Kuehne + Nagel (KN). We are confident that we will soon reach a final agreement on this transfer. The main reservation is the approval by the NMa (the Netherlands Competition Authority). We expect that the NMa will deliver its favourable opinion within a few weeks from now.

The reason for this drastic decision is that we cannot close our eyes to continuing global changes, although so far we have been perfectly able to develop our independent position. Our strategy of the past few years has been focused on ensuring we have a world-wide network at our disposal, which is an important necessity for a forwarding agent. So when KN approached us, we seized the opportunity of achieving this aim in one go. We believe that joining KN will enable our company to operate even more efficiently whilst providing added value to our customers.

During our contacts with KN, we had a good feeling about this partnership, as we complement each other very well. Our strength is in the field of handling import, whereas KN's strength is in the field of export. We have excellent facilities at Schiphol Airport, and KN has a global network.

For the time being, nothing will change for you. We continue to operate under the name J. van de Put Fresh Cargo Handling BV, and of course the same individuals you have worked with all along will remain your contacts. The management of both companies will remain active in the functions with final responsibility. It is obvious that the service will not change either; it will be top-quality as usual. Telephone numbers, e-mail, address, bank details etcetera will remain unchanged as well.

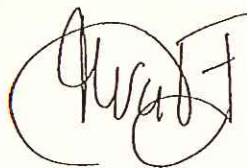

For your information: Kuehne + Nagel is one of the global leaders in the field of logistics. They have 900 offices in over 100 countries, with a strong market position in sea and air cargo as well as in contract logistics and trucking.

For further information, you can always contact the undersigned. We would be pleased to answer any questions you have.

With kind regards,

J. van de Put Fresh Cargo Handling BV
